

POLICE DEPARTMENT MONTHLY REPORT

January 7, 2016

December is typically slow on the crime front which is reflected in the chart below. However, we still had a couple reports of note. One of the trespass incidents was the result of a female resident being woken up, late at night, by loud noises to find an intoxicated male in her living room. The suspect was contacted and arrested by officers. Officers also placed 3 individuals in jail on emergency alcohol holds and 3 individuals were contacted on emergency mental health issues and transported out of town.

The snow over Christmas was welcome and the cleanup is still under way. Neighborhood Services is working with public works to identify vehicles that need to be moved so that plowing and cleanup can occur from curb to curb. This is usually a slow process. We try and time everything so we aren't making cars move or towing cars, then not plowing the area for several days.

The police department is working with the Gunnison Country Food Pantry to have prepackaged boxes of food available at the police department. The food is available to provide to persons travelling through town or residents who are in need of food. This is a great addition to the voucher and support program in place with social service for transients who are stranded in Gunnison. During business hours we are able to refer individuals directly to social services or the food pantry. Both these programs fill a need for contacts made after 5PM and on weekends.

Communications welcomed Sarah Trafton on December 20th to fill the opening left by Meredith. Sarah will be in the communications training program for the next 3 months.

From the increase in 911 calls, ambulance and fire calls you can see we are into the winter months and ski season.
